

ISSCT MANAGEMENT COMMISSION WORKSHOP
Cali, Colombia
26-27 August 2025

Workshop Theme
Anticipating actions and innovations for sugarcane agro-industry sustainability

SESSION TOPICS

- Vision of the future of sugar and ethanol in the world
- The labor market, anticipating the skills of work
- Communication, human resource development, and capacity building
- Management of knowledge in the sugarcane industry, job training, and mentorship
- Call for actions for a climate-resilient sugarcane industry
- Innovation for sustainability and economic impact
- Strategies to promote balanced nutrition and healthy lifestyles

The Management Commission Workshop will take place during the XXXII International Society of Sugar Cane Technologists Congress that will be held in Cali – Colombia from 24 to 28 August 2025.

Participants are invited to prepare abstracts related to the theme and topics of the Workshop.

The Workshop will provide an opportunity for discussions on topics that involve the future of the labor market and how to anticipate the skills of work, as well as a panel discussion of actions for resilient sugarcane under the challenges of extreme weather and climate change. The workshop's objectives also encompass understanding sugar consumption's future and promoting balanced lifestyles to educate the public and policy decision-makers.

Tourism

Cali, known as the “World Capital of Salsa” and the third largest city in Colombia, is a vibrant and lively tourist destination that offers a wide range of unique experiences, sounds, and flavors. Tasting the region’s typical dishes is a must for any visitor. Cali’s food is a delicious blend of flavours that combines local ingredients with influences from the Pacific coast and the region’s Afro-Colombian heritage, creating a unique gastronomic experience that is full of flavour. Strolling the colorful neighborhoods of Cali’s historic old town and amidst the warm hospitality of the ‘Caleño’ people, you will get to know the city’s rich musical heritage. Cali offers a unique experience where Afro-Colombian instruments and rhythms from the Pacific coast are celebrated alongside its famed salsa and traditional indigenous sounds to create all sorts of upbeat and creative musical fusions.
